FOR SALE.

That very Valuable Real Estate called

HAMILTON HALL.

THE subscriber, wishing to remove from the country to a town, offers for sale, his beautiful FARM, on which he now resides, ten miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the southwest bank of the Monongahela river, and two miles from M'Keesport, on the confluence of the Youghioghany and Monongahela rivers, and nearly opposite the mouth of Turtle creek.

This tract consists of about 275 acres of choice land, of which there is nearly 140 acres of first rate river and run bottom—the remainder is excellent tillable upland—there is about 90 acres of river bottom land cleared, which will produce as good corn and grass crops as any in the western country. In point of beauty, as well as excellent quality, this farm is excelled by none. The dwelling house is spacious, 72 feet in length, and one and a half story high, very neat and handsomely finished; a large barn with stables underneath, besides a horse stable, and other out houses, two tenant houses, and an excellent new Saw-mill, with a fall of 22 feet, and a stream of water sufficient for the purpose, for nearly nine months in the year. The same seat will admit of a grist or other mills also. There are several excellent springs for distilling: a handsome garden, stocked with all kinds of shrubbery; a young thriving Orchard, of the best fruit, and more than 3000 sugar trees on said farm.

If desired, there will be sold with the estate 100 full blooded, three fourths, and half blooded MERINO SHEEP, of superior quality and beauty, besides horses, cows, &c. and all kinds of farming utensils. The proximity to Pittsburgh and its excellent market, which unquestionably is the best in the Union, and the convenience as well by land as by water, makes it one of the most desirable and valuable estates in the western country; not only the bottoms but a considerable part of the upland, is excellently calculated for meadow. A full description is deemed unnecessary, as it is presumed the property will not be purchased without viewing it; however, it is calculated the estate will clear from 2500 to $3000 per annum, if well attended to. It is clear of all incumbrance, and an indisputable title will be given.

Besides the above, the subscriber will sell three excellent tracts of BOTTOM LAND, situate about five miles from Harmony, and nine miles from Beaver, 25 miles from Pittsburgh, on the Conequenessing. This land is of the very best quality for meadow or corn; each tract has an improvement upon it; one a saw mill; and another, a good dwelling house, barn, &c.

CHARLES VON BONNHORST.

N. B. For further information apply to James M. Riddle, in the Diamond, Pittsburgh.

The Real Estate of STEEL SEMPLE, Deceased.

THIS LAND is situated within 2 and 3 miles of Pittsburgh, and is divided into small Lots of from five, six, ten and twelve acres.

The survey and draft are now completed, and the lines of the Lots and lanes, plainly and distinctly marked on the ground.

This land is fertile, near to the city, and convenient to good roads. It is so divided as to be convenient for gardners, persons desirous of attending market, or to farmers of small capital. As Out-lots, they are well suited to persons residing in the city.

They are offered for Sale on a credit of from twelve to eighteen months. The plan can be seen at my office. WILLIAM WILKINS.

NEW YORK, October 29.

Extract of a letter from Barcelona, dated Sept. 7, to a gentleman of this city.

"Two days ago, at an early hour H. M. brig Heron, of 18 guns, arrived here from Algiers, and soon after Lord Exmouth's flag-captain landed from her, bearing dispatches. He set out in an hour for London.—As I am on terms of intimacy with the British acting consul, the following particulars were communicated to me soon after with an injunction not to divulge them until yesterday morning.

Lord Exmouth, in the Queen Charlotte, three decker, and his whole squadron, appeared off Algiers, on the 27th August, and as he had a plan of all their forts and fortifications, every vessel in the squadron had its station assigned, prior to its approaching the city. The orders were that every vessel should run in as close to the batteries as possible, allowing a foot or two of water more than their draft, and their anchor. The flag ship Queen Charlotte anchored within about twenty yards of one of the strongest batteries, to the great astonishment of the Algerines. The Impregnable, also a three decker anchored about a similar distance before another very strong battery. The other vessels took their stations as before arranged, and immediately opened a most terrible and destructive fire. Lord Exmouth, previous to firing, observed that a number of persons, to the amount of about three thousand, apparently come down from the country, and were mere spectators, being unarmed, waved to them to retire, as they were within reach of his guns. His humane attentions were not attended to, and as he could not delay the attack, he opened his batteries, and his first broadside killed and wounded four hundred and upwards of these poor wretches.

Soon after a party landed, and carried the battery which commands the town, by storm.

The firing continued on both sides, without intermission, for nine hours and a half, it was then near midnight, when the Algerine batteries were completely silenced. Lord Exmouth's squadron immediately ceased firing. It may appear astonishing, though nevertheless true, that the ammunition on board most of the vessels was completely exhausted. What with the firing and the congreve rockets, the sight was awfully grand—the darkness of the night rendered the scene more so.

The whole of the Algerine squadron are said to be burnt; and their batteries are totally destroyed. A small part of the town has been injured.

Yesterday morning another man of war brig arrived with despatches from Lord Exmouth, for their minister, Mr. Wellesly, to the court of Spain. A messenger was immediately sent off with them to Madrid.

The man of war brig Heron, which arrived two days ago, proceeded immediately for Genoa, having on board the money returned by the Dey, for the ransom of the Genoese, &c. The squadron under Lord Exmouth, are now supposed to be at Mahon. They were to sail on the 2d instant, from Algiers for that port.'

The following Bulletin was on Friday issued from the Admiralty.

BULLETIN.—ADMIRALTY OFFICE.

Government on Friday night received despaches from Sir Charles Stuart, at Paris, with the grateful intelligence that the French minister, the Duke of Richeneu, had received a dispatch from the French Consul at Marseilles, stating, that Lord Exmouth attacked Algiers on the 25th ult. and succeeded in every point.

The Algerine fleet was completely destroyed with a loss of 4,000 men in killed and wounded; and on the 26th the Dey consented to an armistice, upon Lord Exmouth's own terms.

To this account we have to add the following particulars, which are understood to be equally authentic, though not inserted in the official communication.—Lord Exmouth arrived before Algiers on the 25th of August; he immediately sent a summons to the Dey, in which, as instructed by our government, he demanded the cautionary surrender of the fleet—the delivery into the Admiral's hands of all those who could be pointed out as having assisted in the recent massacre—the renewal of the former Treaty, and the deliverance, without ransom, of all Europeans whatever.—The Dey replied with insolence. The fleet was instantly brought to action; the ships were laid abreast of the town and Algerine fleet, and a most furious bombardment of shot and shells commenced. The Algerines defended themselves with the blind fury of barbarians under the influence of their religious principle of predestination. One of their frigates, taking fire, communicated it to others of the fleet—the conflagration became general, and the whole fleet of five frigates, and thirty galleys and gunboats, were consumed.

The Dey, in terror of this catastrophe, and at the loss, (of about a million sterling in value) immediately sent off the Swedish Consul with an earnest solicitation for an immediate armistice, adding his consent to all the terms required. His Lordship granted the armistice, but refused to conclude any definitive agreement, till the receipt of further orders from his government.

LORD EXMOUTH's VICTORY.

We have, to-day, the high gratification of announcing, by an Extraordinary Gazette, published last night, the arrival of the dispatches of Lord Exmouth, which communicate the successful result of his Lordship's operations before Algiers.

Captain Brisbane, with the despatch, arrived on Saturday night, at the Admiralty, at a quarter before nine o'clock, but neither Lord Melville nor Mr. Croker being in town, the captain changed horses at the Admiralty, and proceeded to the seat of Mr. Croker, at Fulham, with the dispatches.

It appears that lord Exmouth, after encountering some opposition from the adverse elements, placed himself before Algiers by day break on the 27th of last month; and that the irresistible gallantry of his fleet soon brought the ruffian enemy to terms.

In the attainment of the important objects of his expedition, we have to lament the loss of many gallant officers and men; but we must consider a "partial evil for universal good."

The British Consul was happily restored in safety—and it is not an uninteresting circumstance, that his wife and daughter were brought away in the disguise of midshipmen. A child of the consul unconsciously betrayed its intended escape in a basket, by its cries.—It was, however, sent off next morning by the Dey, who, it appears, was disposed to make a virtue of necessity.

The loss of the enemy is between 6 and 7000 men, besides the destruction of his implements of piracy; his vessels.

Memorandum of the destruction in the Mole of Algiers, in the attack of the 27th August,

Four large frigates, of 44 guns; 5 large corvetts, from 24 to 30; all the gun and mortar boats, except 7; 30 destroyed; several merchant brigs and schooners; a great number of small vessels of various descriptions; all the pontoons, &c: store-houses and arsenal, with all the timber and various marine articles, destroyed in part; a great many gun carriages, mortar beds, casks, and ship stores of all descriptions.

EXMOUTH.

His Britannic Majesty's ship Queen Charlotte, Algiers Bay, Aug. 28.

SIR—For your attrocities at Bona on defenceless Christians, and your unbecoming disregard to the demands I made yesterday, in the name of the Prince Regent of England, the fleet under my orders has given you a signal chastisement, by the total destruction of your navy, storehouses, and arsenal, with half your batteries.

As England does not war for the destruction of cities, I am unwilling to visit your personal cruelties upon the inoffensive inhabitants of the country, and I therefore offer you the same terms of peace which I conveyed to you yesterday in my Sovereign's name; without the acceptance of these terms, you can have no peace with England.

If you receive this offer as you ought, you will fire three guns; and I shall consider your not making this signal as a refusal and shall renew my operations at my own convenience.

I offer you the above terms, provided neither the British Consul, nor the officers and men so wickedly seized by you from the boats of a British ship of war have met with cruel treatment, or any of the Christian slaves in your power; and repeat my demand, that the Consul, and officers and men, may be sent off to me, conformable to ancient treaties, &c.

EXMOUTH.

To his Higness the Dey of Algiers.

Queen Charlotte, Algiers Bay, Aug. 30.

GENERAL MEMORANDUM.

The commander in chief is happy to inform the fleet of the final termination of their strenuous exertions, by the signature of peace, confirmed under a salute of 21 guns, on the following conditions, dictated by his royal highness the prince regent of England:

I. The abolition, forever, of christian slavery.

II. The delivery to my flag, of all slaves in the dominions of the dey, to whatever nation they may belong, at noon to-morrow.

III. To deliver also, to my flag, all money received by him for the redemption of slaves since the commencement of this year, at noon also to-morrow.

IV. Reparation has been made to the British consul for all losses he may have sustained in consequence of his confinement.

V. The Dey has made a public apology in presence of his ministers and officers, and begged pardon of the consul, in terms dictated by the captain of the Queen Charlotte.

The commander in chief takes this opportunity of again returning his public thanks to the admirals, captains, officers, seamen, marines, royal marine artillery, royal sappers and miners, and the royal-rocket corps, for the noble support he has received from them throughout the whole of this ordous service: and he is pleased to direct, that on Sunday next a public thanksgiving be offered up to Almighty God, for the signal interposition of his Divine Providence, during the conflict which took place on the 27th, between his majesty's fleet and the ferocious enemies of mankind.

It is requested that this memorandum may be read to the ship's companies.

To the admirals, captains, officers, seamen, marines, royal-sappers and miners, royal marine artillery, and the royal-rocket corps.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE, ALGIERS BAY,
SEPTEMBER 1, 1816.

SIR,

I have the honor to acquaint you, for their lordship's information, that I have sent capt. Brisbane with my duplicate dispatches, as I am afraid that admiral Milne, in the Leander, who has charge of the originals, may experience a long voyage, the wind having set in to the westward, a few hours after he sailed.

Capt. Brisbane, to whom I feel greatly indebted for his exertions, and the able assistance I have received from him throughout the whole of this service, will be able to inform their lordships upon all points that I may have omitted.

Admiral sir Charles Penrose arrived too late to take his share in the attack upon Algiers, which I lament, as much on his account as my own; his services would hade been desirable in every respect.

I have the satisfaction to state, that all the slaves in the city of Algiers, and immediately in this vicinity, are embarked; as also 357,000 dollars for Naples, and 25,500 for Sardinia. The treaties will be signed to-morrow, and I hope to be able to sail in a day or two.

The Minden has sailed for Gibraltar to be refitted, and will proceed from thence to her ultimate destination.

The Albion will be refitted at Gibraltar, for the reception of sir Charles Penrose's flag. The Glasgow I shall be obliged to bring home with me. I have the honor to be, &c.

Lord Exmouth, after the reduction of Algiers, was to proceed to Tunis and Tripoli; but both places are expected to capitulate without resistance.

The famous Polytechnique School, established by BUONAPARTE, and so spiritedly dissolved by LOUIS 18th, for the insubordination of some of the Tutors and pupils, has been re-established with great improvements. A number of the old Professors have been rechosen.

The school is declared to be under the protection of the Duke d'Angouleme.

American Crocodile.—A paris paper having announced the arrival of an American Crocodile, another paper with great solemnity, cautioned the public to beware how they approached the den of this terribly voracious animal: But the owner the next day assured the public, that this formidable creature was only about a foot long, and was one of the Alligators so numerous and so little regarded in the southern rivers of America.

ALEXANDER and KUTOSOW.

Alexander, the emperor of Russia, is one of those who know how to confer a favor in a manner that infinitely enhances the value of the gift. This is most strikingly exemplified in the admirable compliment which he paid to the brave Kutusow, a compliment which it would perhaps be difficult to parallel for elegance, significance, or refined feeling. When he announced to that officer his elevation to the rank of prince of Smolensko, for his services during the campaign of 1812, against the French, the emperor accompanied his present with the most valuable jewel, taken from the imperial crown, as a tribute to the valour of one, by whom it had been so ably defended. He directed the vacancy thus occasioned, to be filled up with a small plate of gold, inscribed with the name of Kutusow.

A Job...."We give the following fact, which has just come to our knowledge, from a most respectable authority, as a proof of the earnest disposition of ministers to be economical wherever they can: A colonel, well known, and a favorite at Carlton House, has been sent out to the island of St Helena, as inspector of militia, with a salary of 800 pounds a year.—The salary will probably be thought not too much for his laborious exertions, when the public learn, that at the time of his arrival on the island, the whole of the militia there amounted to seven men!!"

PITTSBURGH.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1816.

Foreign News.—Late arrivals at New York, have furnished London dates to the 6th Sept. containing Lord Exmouth's official details of the expedition against Algiers, which will be found in the preceding columns.

Naval Orders.—It is stated in the National Intelligencer, that our naval force in the neighbourhood of New-Orleans has been directed to put to sea to protect our flag from insult; and that the frigate Congress, Capt. Morris has been ordered to cruise in that region.

The Warren (Ohio) paper of the 1st inst. states that a few days ago, two brothers, belonging in Suffield, (Portage county,) left home to look for some horses. They separated at the foot of a small hill, and soon after one of them heard the other crying for assistance; he ran to him and found he was attacked by a Bear; the man was standing, and the Bear on his hind feet tearing out his bowels! Four balls were shot through the Bear before he relinquished his prey.—The man was dead before his brother got up to him.

Defeat of the Patriots on the Spanish Maine.—By the arrival at N. York of the British schr. Collins, Capt. Leech, in 22 days from the Island of Trinidad, the editors of the Spectator have been favored with the following paragraph copied from a Trinidad Newspaper of the 18th Sept.

"Port of Spain, Sept. 18.—In addition to the late defeat sustained under Bolivar, at Ocuminar, published in our last, we have now to communicate the total defeat or rather the destruction of another division of the insurgent army, under the command of Sir Gregor M'Gregor, who was also slain, and his body salted and sent to Carraccas, to be exposed. This intelligence has been received here from so respectable a source as to leave no doubt of its authenticity, so that the royal cause in Venezuela is at least likely to put down all opposition for some time to come. We wait with anxiety for the official details of this affair."

Volcanic Eruption.—Accounts from Naples states that there was an eruption of Mount Vesuvius on the 8th of August last. The eruption, which was of short continuance, was preceded by an earthquake. The lava pursued the course of that which was thrown out by the last eruption; and of course produced no serious injury to the surrounding country.

The Lipari Isles.—Accounts from Naples, say, that our minister Mr. Pinckney, has demanded of the Neapolitan government, the cession of the above islands, as indemnity for the confiscations of Murat.—They are situated at the North West extremity of Sicily, called in the classical ages the Æonian Islands. They have no port fitted for accommodating the wants of Americans.

FOR THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

The first chapter of Chronicles.

1. In those days lived Robert the Financier, who said to the Rulers, let us have a mill, that the people may have bread; and the Rulers said, Be it so.

2 After him came Alexander, like unto whom there was not another, an Israelite indeed, in whom there was no guile.

3 And he said, let us have a Mill, that shall grind for the whole nation, and the Rulers said be it so, and beyond this they ought never to have gone.

4. But in after times, this mill was overset, by the lever of Thomas the Hittite and Henry the Gergashite, who was as clay in the hands of the potter.

5. And great was the fall thereof.

6. For verily, these Rulers succeeded better in pulling down, than in building up.

7. Then the wise men of the East, took council together, with Albert sirnamed the Political Sinner, and they said, let us also have a mill.

8 Moreover, in these latter days it was ruled, that mills, like justice, should be brought to every man's door, and all the people said Amen

9. And many mills were erected, appropriately termed overshot, and there was no want save that of corn.

10 It was then said, why should we labour as heretofore? Behold the lilies of the field, they toil not, neither do they spin.

11. Man shall no longer, as in the metallic ages, earn his bread by the sweat of his brow, let us eat drink and be merry.

12 And the people danced to the timbrel, to the pipe and tabor, and things went on smoothly, even as a mill that grindeth oil

13 And they anointed themselves, and their wives and their daughters wore purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day

14. And the horns of some were highly exalted.

15. And all said, let us have wine, which maketh glad the heart of man, and they rejoiced with joy unspeakable.

16. And they made to themselves images, not molten, but graven images, before which the people fell down and worshiped.

17. And those images resembled ships on the Ocean, sheaves of wheat, the distaff and the plough, that was wont to till the earth

18. And neighing steeds, and the Eagle that soareth on high, the Owl of the desart, and the Pelican of the wilderness.

19. The Buck that boundeth through the forest, and the Beaver who when hardly pressed promptly curtaileth his discounts.

20. And those that served at the mills, put in also their toll dishes, helping themselves to hundreds, to thousands, and to tens of thousands!!!

21. For it is written, thou shalt not muzzle the Ox that treadeth out the corn.

22. To go to mill, was now the vocation of all men, and with the men also came, certain of the fair daughters of Israel.

23. Some of whom were mounted on horses, some on asses, and verily some had been riding on Ball and others on Ball's mare, as the quaker proverb is.

24. Moreover, came certain fisher-men, or rather fishers of women, but whose bait occasionally took in a male gudgeon.

25. These came by bye-paths, riding not before, but behind a Ganymede, that they might not be seen of men.

26. For it is written, the last shall be first and the first last.

27. Albert, as this seemed to represent that, which was not, Ganymede said, can I do this thing and live?

28. And for that saying he was sorely rebuked.

29. Then Ganymede said, am not I thine ass on which thou hast ridden ever since I was thine?

30. And the beast kick'd up, and he who heaveth the line, slip'd into the saddle, saying, get thee behind me Ganymede.

31. Although, to be carnally minded is death, yet verily, to borrow at six, and lend at eight, evinceth no lack of worldly talent.

32 But those who went in unto the mills, came not out as they went in.

33. Having around their necks a weight, equal to the nether mill-stone.

34 For lo! they came out, as of old out of the ark, two and two, bound hand and foot, the clean and the unclean together.

35. Some were likened to Moses and Aaron, to Gog and Magog, to Castor and Pollux: and where three were joined, they were aptly compared to Shadrach, Meshack and Abednigo.

36 Yet some were held merely nominal, as the twin brothers-in-law, John Doe and Richard Roe

37. And some, after a season, were compared to the reluctant partners, in the death dance of Holbein the painter.

38. Yet were all yoked, like oxen to the plough, or as a man is yoked to his spouse, for better for worse.

39. And they were dovetailed together, even as a carpenter dovetaileth a chest.

40 But behold, the storms came, and the rain fell, and the winds blew.

41. And many dams it was feared, would be like broken cisterns, that could hold neither wind nor water

42. And the mills stood still, by reason of the back water.

43. And the people murmured.

Progress of the West.....Commerce is rapidly extending itself to the waters of the Missouri, whose source a few years since was unknown. The town of St. Louis, containing about 3000 souls, is rapidly increasing both in population and wealth, and already rivals many of our country towns, both in the commodiousness and elegance of its buildings, and in the politeness and hospitality of its inhabitants. The FUR TRADE, properly protected by government, will be a source of immense wealth. A bank has lately been established at St. Louis.

TRAVELS OF ALI BEY.

The work of which this is the title, professes to be the travels of a Moorish Prince, through various Mahometan countries, but we are assured are in reality the travels of an intelligent Spaniard under that disguise. He was admitted to sweep the house of God in the temple of Mecca, as a pilgrim, to which privilege none but a Moslem of high rank could have been admitted—and he drank of the waters of the holy well. The following account of the guardian of the holy waters, is an interesting part of the work:—

Before I proceed, I must give a description of this interesting person, the Chief of the Well.

He is a young man about twenty-two or twenty-four years of age, extremely handsome, with very fine eyes. He dresses remarkably well, and is very polished. He has an air of sweetness, which is seducing, & appears to be endowed with all the qualities which render a person amiable. As he possesses the entire confidence of the Scherif he fills the most important place.—His title is, The Poisoner. Take courage reader, lest I should make you tremble for me. This dangerous man was known to me the first time I went to the well of Zemzem, when he made his court assiduously to me. He gave me a magnificent dinner, and sent me every day two small pitchers of the water of the miraculous well. He even watched the moments when I went to the temple, and ran with the most winning grace and sweetness to present me a handsome cup filled with the same water, which I drank to the last drop, because it would have been considered a sort of crime or impiety to have refused it.

This wretch observes the same conduct to all the Pachas and important personages who come here. Upon the slightest suspicion, or the least caprice that may arise in the mind of the Scherif, he orders, the other obeys, and the unhappy stranger ceases to exist. As it is reckoned impious not to accept the sacred water presented by the chief of the well, this man is arbiter of the lives of every one, and has already sacraficed many victims.

From time immemorial the Sultan Scherifs of Mecca have had a prisoner at their court; and it is remarkable that they do not try to conceal it, since it is well known in Egypt and Constantinople, that the Divan has several times sent to Mecca, Pachas, or other persons, to be sacrificed in this manner.

This was the reason why the Mogrebins or Arabs of the west, who are entirely devoted to me, hastened to warn me to be upon my guard upon my arrival in the city. My servants wished this traitor at the devil; but I myself treated him with the greatest marks of confidence. I accepted his water and his entertainments with an unalterable serenity and coolness. I took the precaution, however, to keep three doses of vitriolated zinc, a much more active emetic than tartar emetic, always in my pocket, to take the instant I should perceive the least indication of treason. [Boston Intel.

From the N. York Evening Post.

"High Fashions.".....I ought, perhaps, to inform my male readers, at the outset, that this article is written solely for the benefit of the ladies; for ladies, I am proud to know, occasionally do me the honor to peruse the Evening Post.

Some weeks since, there appeared a communication in the Albany Argus, entitled "High Fashions," which, I soon perceived, was a public attack on the dress of certain fashionable ladies from Canada, who had been lately residing at Albany; to be plain, it was no less than an attack upon the petticoats of the fair visitants. Certainly a very ticklish subject, and one that cannot be handled without some danger.—Reading on, I found the writer charging the ladies with wearing kilts, the dress of the Highlanders, instead of petticoats, and arraigning their modesty in round, set terms. This occasioned a smile, at the time, not at the ladies, but at the curious blunder of the satyrists; for I did not for a moment credit the fact. Knowing that the Albanian ladies have long been noted for their veneration for the customs of their Dutch grandmothers and above all things, for that of wearing the linsey-woolsey petticoat, as an impregnable guard of honor, most scrupulously preserving it in dog-days, in its full four-breadth dimensions, I could easily imagine the might mistake the late fashion of the short narrow garments which our city ladies wear (if garment that might be called that garment was none,) for the Highland kilt, and that hence had arisen the writer's mistake. I threw down the paper and thought no more of it, until seeing it republished again, at the southward, it struck me that there might possibly be more foundation for the story than I was aware of, and I was in the act of reading it over again, in the Pittsburgh Gazette of this morning, when a note was brought me from the post-office, which, on opening, I found it to contain the following appropriate, if not very poetical lines; the writer assures me that the fashion at which his verses are levelled, is actually about to be introduced into this city, not however from the Highlands of Scotland, but from Constantinople. As a friend to good morals and good manners, I give them a place.

FOR THE EVENING POST.

A billet doux from old fashioned Mrs. Petticoat, to new fashioned Miss Belinda Breeches.

Belinda my dear; for Belinda's your name,
Whether female or not, I'm not sure;
For since with your Trowsers at manhood you aim,
Your gender is somewhat obscure.

With my daughters you've long been familiar and gay,
In friendship and social delight;
With Dolly and Polly you've prattled all day,
And slept in their bed-room at night.

But since in your Trowsers you manfully strut,
In my bosom suspicions have grown;
So don't be displeased if their bed-room be shut;
I'd much rather you'd sleep in your own.
Yours sincerely,
MARTHA PETTICOAT.

We have often heard it asserted, says the Analectic Magazine, that Washington never smiled but once in his life. This we know not to be true: for we recollect, when, in 1789, he was at Newburyport, seeing him laugh heartily; a proper hoh hoh laugh. He stood at the gate of Mr. Tracy's yard, while the procession of selectmen, clergy, lawyers, doctors, carpenters, smiths, taylors, shoemakers, schoolmasters with their pupils, &c. &c. passed: the last were the sailors commanded by captain Bradbury, with boatswains whistling and some old sailors fiddling, one of whom had a droll way of jerking his elbow. There was a universal loud laugh: Washington too laughed loud and hearty, bending his head and shoulders down a considerable distance.—Those who were quite intimate with him say he was occasionally fond of jocular anecdotes. He however, in the latter part of his life, had not time for laughing—He was too busy thinking of what would promote the welfare of his country.

DIED, on Wednesday morning last, at Carr's Hotel, in this City, RICHARD M'CORMICK, Esq. late of Charleston, South-Carolina, aged 33 years.

His death was remarkably sudden. He arrived here late on the preceding evening, accompanied by his wife and daughter, on their way to St. Louis—was in apparent good health, and expired about 9 o'clock the following morning, after an illness of a few hours. This dispensation of Providence, says our informant, (a friend of the deceased) has inflicted a deep wound in the hearts of his relations. The many inestimable qualities which adorned his character, will cause his loss to be regretted, and his memory entombed in the hearts of his friends.

His remains were interred in the Catholic burial ground, attended by the society of Free Masons, and a large collection of citizens.

Messrs. Bosler & Co.

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT and FAMILY MEDICINE STORE, New-York,

A FRESH SUPPLY OF THE FOLLOWING

GENUINE MEDICINES.

Dr HAMILTON'S

Grand Restorative.

Prepared (only) by H. LEE, No. 56, Maiden Lane, New-York.

The proprietor of HAMILTON'S RESTORATIVE DROPS confidently recommends it as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and cure of permanent

Nervous Disorders	Violent Cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of Spirits	Melancholy
Loss of Appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of Blood	Pains in the Limbs
Hysterical Affections	Relaxations, &c
Inward Weaknesses

This Medicine is perfectly different in its qualities and operation from those hot and irritating slimp so frequently proposed for similar purposes, which only recommend themselves by the dangerous rapidity of their effects—and which, acting as a temporary, but violent stimulus on the nervous system, infallibly produces greater evils than those which they are intended to remove.

The principal operation of this medicine is in the stomach, restoring the digestive power, and sending from that organ new health and vigor into every part of the system; it enriches and purifies the blood without stimulating, too violently, the nervous system; strengthens the secretory vessels and general habits, brings back the muscular fibres to their natural and healthy tone, and restores that nutrition which immoderate evacuations have destroyed, and whose loss had thrown the whole frame into languor and debility.

The restorative is absolutely above all commendation in removing those weaknesses and infirmities with which many females are afflicted, the consequences of difficult and painful labours, or of injudicious treatment therein.

In cases of extremity, where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease have brought on a general impoverisement of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nourishment or cordial could repair

The Grand Restorative is prepared in Pills, as well as in fluid form, which assists considerably in producing a gradual and lasting effect.

HAMILTON'S
Worm Destroying Lozenges.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous compiaints arising from worms, and from obstructions of foulness in the stomach and bowels.

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills,

Celebrated for the mildness of their operation, &c. for being the best known remedy for cleansing the stomach and bowels-

HAMILTON'S
ESSENCE & EXTRACT OF MUSTARD,

Gout, Palsy, Sprains and Bruises, White swellings, old Strains and Relaxations, Numbness and Weaknesses of the Neck, Pains of the Side, Head ache, Swelled Faces, Frozen Limbs, and every similar complaint. It prevents Chilblains or Chopped Hands, and the ill effects of getting wet or damp in the feet.

THE GENUINE PERSIAN LOTION,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, in preventing and removing blemishes on the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c

THE RESTORATIVE POWDER,
For the Teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts & strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which, suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.

Celebrated for the cure of colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, and approaching consumptions, and a certain remedy for the whooping cough.

HAHN'S GENUINE EYE WATER.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or accident.

TOOTH ACHE DROPS.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

ITCH CURED.
LEE'S OINTMENT FOR THE ITCH.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

LEE'S
INFALLIBLE
AGUE & FEVER DROPS.

For the cure of Agues, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers.

HAHN'S

True & Genuine German Corn Plaister.

NOTE. The above GENUINE MEDICINES are prepared (only) by H. LEE, (widow of Richard Lee, deceased) No. 56, Maiden Lane, N. York, and

Berlin cord, stockinet
Mole skins, blankets

And other articles which they will dispose of at the lowest terms by the piece or package only silk of any kind, superfine cloth, and thread lace excepted) which they will cut to accommodate every one who will favour them with their custom.

September 6, 1816

P. S. Also for Sale, a large quantity of Earthen Wares and Steel, which they will sell to Merchants as low as possible.

Steam Woolen Manufactory.

THE subscriber has on hand at his manufactory, which he offers for sale, on the most reasonable terms, the following Domestic Cloths, viz

SUPERFINE BROAD CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
SATTINETS,
KERSEYNETS;

of different qualities, and a great variety of colors, suitable for the approaching season.

Having established his manufactory on an extensive scale, and at a very great expence, he will at all times be able to furnish any orders with which he may be favoured. Although an appeal to the patriotism of his fellow citizens, in support of the infant manufactures of their country, may not alone succeed; yet, when this appeal is made at a time when the rate of exchange between the western and the eastern states is greatly to our disadvantage, interest may induce merchants and others to turn their attention to the promotion and support of their own manufactories.

He assures the public that his prices are such as to be worthy their attention, particularly to those who purchase largely. He will give a credit of six, nine or twelve months, according to the quantity purchased, payable by negotiable notes in either of the banks in Pittsburgh.

He takes this method of returning thanks for the liberal encouragement he has received in the fulling and wool carding business, and requests a continuance.

Country cloth dressed as usual at the shortest notice. Machinery for this purpose being of the most complete kind, and in perfect order.

JAMES ARTHURS.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE Subscriber will Sell the whole or any part of the following described Valuable Property, viz:—

A LOT OF GROUND, situated at the corner of Smithfield and Second Streets, in the City of Pittsburgh, containing 50 feet in front on Smithfield Street, and 66 and an half feet in depth. This Lot can be conveniently divided into two handsome building Lots of 25 feet front each; and the site of the Bridge over the Monongahela River being fixed at the mouth of Smithfield Street, renders them eligible stands for Mercantile, Manufacturing, or Mechanical business.

THREE LOTS OF GROUND in the City of Pittsburgh—one fronting on Second Street, opposite the New Market, fronting a square of 100 feet wide extending to Smithfield Street, containing 40 feet front on Second Street, and extending in depth towards Front Street 65 feet, on which is erected a large and commodious Warehouse, suitable for any person engaged in Commission business—and its vicinity to the river, renders it peculiarly advantageous to mercantile men. The other two Lots are situated on the north side of Front Street—one of them containing 40 feet front in Front Street, and extending in depth towards Second Street 65 feet, on which is erected a large two story Frame Dwelling House, recently occupied by Thomas Bracken—the other adjoining the above 20 feet in front on Front Street, and 65 feet deep; both eligible situations for business.

Also, AN OUT LOT, adjoining the City, containing about 16 acres, and adjoining property belonging to Doctor George Stevenson, and James M. Butler, bounded on the Monongahela river, and the public road leading to the Turnpike at Thompson's Lane. This Lot is in the highest state of cultivation, with a thriving young Orchard of the best grafted fruit, a Brick Spring House, over one of the finest springs in the Western Country, and a variety of other improvements. This Lot will be Sold either in whole, or be divided into small Lots, to suit purchasers, a plan of which may be seen on application to the subscriber.

The whole of the above described property, recently belonged to the late Thomas Bracken. The terms will be liberal and accommodating to purchasers. Any person wishing to view any part of the property, will apply to the subscriber, or those on the premises,

DAVID PRIDE.

Pittsburgh, April 3, 1816.

For Sale,

FOUR tracts, containing each 100 acres, of the lands appropriated to satisfy military claims situate near Fort Laurens in Tuscarawas county and state of Ohio. These lands are of a good quality, having about 35 acres of high rich Prairies, easily rendered fit for the plough, and the rest well timbered with oaks, walnut, hickory, &c. The whole body lies high, healthy and level enough for a good farm.

The Tuscarawas branch of the Muskingum which runs through it, is 16 perches wide and navigable for boats of 20 tons burthen to a great distance above fort Laurens at all times when the Ohio is so: it being the branch contemplated to communicate by a lock with the Cuyanoga river which is navigable to Lake Erie.

The country round the fort is well settled and settling, principally with the descendants of Germans and people from the eastern states,—and the country round is less hilly and has a larger proportion of good level farming land than most of those districts in the state which are esteemed healthy. The river here abounds with excellent fish: the soil and climate are adapted to Indian corn, small grain, and grass, of which abundant crops are raised. The range for cattle and hogs are fine.

Fort Laurens is situate about 12 miles from New Philadelphia, the county town: 11 miles from Kendal, six miles from New Bethlehem, 12 miles from Canton the county town of Starks, 45 miles from the Salt-works, and a number of small towns have been laid out in this neighbourhood, one within a mile, one within three miles and another within eight miles. This neighbourhood is inviting to storekeepers and mechanicks of all descriptions, and affords a great opening for men of industry and enterprise.

The terms of sale will be made known on application at his office in fifth street to

AQUILA M. BOLTON,
Attorney at Law and Conveyancer,

Who has made arrangements to furnish all kinds of INSTRUMENTS OF WRITING, with precision, neatness and despatch, and will undertake to liquidate accounts and close a sett of books.

Pittsburgh, October 15, 1816—3t.

SAMUEL DAVIS,
Clock and Watch Maker,

RETURNS his thanks to his customers in general for past favours, and hopes for a continuance of the same. He informs the ladies and gentlemen of Pittsburgh, and the country in general, that he has now in his employ a gentleman lately from Paris, and has it in his power to repair Watches and Timepieces of all descriptions in the best manner and on the shortest notice, and warrants them to perform.

He requests all those indebted to him by note or book account for longer than three months, to call and settle their accounts before the 15th of October next. If this request is neglected their accounts will be put into the hands of proper officers for collection wthout respect to persons.
